THEN HE STARTED IN TO WRECK THINGS, your father. Here's another half to assist you. This is simply preparatory. Sammis. Quarters and halves and dollars will think and rattle around here and pass from me to you with astonishing frequency. All you've got to do is to look out for my interests.
"Yes, sir."
"Should a woman call here, Sammis—an oldish woman, with red hair and a sharp nose and a voice like a file?"
"You are out, of course. She's the woman who wants contributions for the heathen, and you don't want to be bothered."
"Exactly, Sammis! And you are a jewel!" he said as he patted me on the head. "I am always to be out when she calls. You are to discourage her from calling again. You may even hint that I have removed to Chicago or St. Louis. I see you closely scrutinizing my side whiskers, Sammis. Don't you like the color?"
"Yes, sir, but they are false."
"Ah, Sammis, another quarter for the gigantic mortgage. It's a little notion of mine to wear false whiskers for a few weeks, and nothing need be said about it. What we know we know, but we keep mum about it. You trust me; I trust you. We'll make that mortgage look sick in a month or two. Ta, ta, Sammis! I think we understand each other."
I thought so, too, and it was all right for two or three weeks. Mr. Rockaway didn't come down with any more halves, but I didn't lay that up against him. It was what he said and did that hurt my feelings. One day at the fourth floor a lawyer's boy called me a saved off liar. I stopped the elevator to punch his head and thus was late getting up to answer a call from Mr. Rockaway. He was mad about it, and taking me by the ear, he said:
"You trifling young monkey, but I'll have no more of this! I've a good mind to report you to the agent and have you bounced! What do you mean by such conduct?"
"I'm sorry, sir."
"That makes no difference. From this time out I shall have an eye on you, and you'll either walk chalk or get the bounce. Do you hear me?"
The iron struck home. From that hour I waited and longed for a Red.

JOHN SUNDERLAND,

There is not any doubt remaining in the minds of Bryan's friends about the sincerity of the drummers in their support of the Democratic ticket. These men and many retailers in trade were active and aggressive in their support of McKinley four years ago in opposition to silver, which was a means to cause doubt about the meaning of the earnest words of the drummers when they made expressions favorable to the election of Bryan. It was believed by many of Bryan's friends that these men and their words contained more pretense than earnestness of meaning, but time and work have removed all doubts about the meaning of these men when they claim to be favorable to the election of Bryan and Stevenson.

These men are organized and at work in the most earnest and aggressive manner wherever they are. The bands that bound the drummers in 1896 are broken asunder, and there is no restraint remaining on their volition in politics. When they worked for McKinley in 1896 it was not written in their text book on politics at that time that the election of McKinley to the office of President would be a cause of disaster to their business through the medium of trusts. It has not been a policy of the leaders of the Republican party to make known their intention to the party, and more particularly to the people.

It is a rule among scheming politicians not to divulge their plans. Should they do so very few of the plans of bosses, to further the domination of trusts and monopolies, would receive support from the people. The natural blindness of the people to the work of their pronounced enemies has largely aided to bring upon them the conditions there are confronting them. The drummers are an industrial class who have been taken in and robbed of a means of making a living, without receiving notice about the intention there was entertained to discard them and their service in the future.

Should trusts and monopolies succeed in directing the policy of the government in the future there will be many more people and their service dispensed with to the advantage of trusts and monopolies, and to the disadvantage of those who earn a living by labor. Each day that passes over the heads of the people brings additional proofs of the contention there is between organized capital and labor. It may be that labor is blind to the most positive proofs that have accumulated within the last four years, that it is subject to a slave condition hitherto unknown since the close of the dark ages, which condition is being applied as speedily as it is possible to prepare the chains to bind it upon the people.

MINES AND MINING

Items About Nevada's Leading Industry Clipped From Exchanges.

A number of prospectors are bringing in specimens and some of them look like bonanzas. When the Nome wanderers reach home they will be glad to hit the old hills of Nevada.

A tract of 16,000 acres of placer ground has been located on the shore of Owens lake, Inyo county, Cal., which carries a large percentage of aluminum in the clay, and a plant for extracting the metal may be installed.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with County Clerk Cowing for the Ludlow mining company of Los Angeles, with principal place of business at Carson City, Nevada. The capital stock is divided into 1,000,000 shares rated at $1 each.

The recent raise in quicksilver has induced miners to prospect for cinnabar more diligently than ever, with the result that good prospects have been found in Nevada and Oregon. In Texas, in the Terlingua district, southwest of Austin, numerous claims have been located and furnaces erected on some of the most promising. One of these claims was sold last month for $90,000. The cinnabar deposits at Spanish Springs, Nye county, promises to develop into a considerable depth.—Times Review.

WHAT BRYAN AND OTHERS SAY ABOUT CLUBS.

There is published in the JOURNAL a notice to Democrats and others that there will be a meeting at the Court House on Saturday evening to organize a Bryan club. The organization of the club should have been made before this time, but it is never too late to do good. Below our readers will learn what the great leaders have to say about the organization of clubs:

"To the Democrats of the United States:

"The Democratic party and its friends must meet the forces of corruption and intimidation in politics this year by thorough organization. A Democratic club should be organized in every city, town, village and precinct in the United States.

"Democrats and all who are in sympathy with the principles set forth by the Kansas City platform are urgently requested to join Democratic clubs, or, if none exists, to assist in organizing them.

"This work of uniting the forces of law and liberty into one great systematized civic army should be carried on simultaneously in every part of the country, and without delay. The friends of the government, according to the hitherto unchallenged American theory of political equality everywhere under our flag, cannot afford to be less zealous or less active than the advocates of an American colonial empire, supported by rifles.

"No patriotic citizen can ignore the attacks which are being made upon the foundation of our present irreproachable form of government. This year every citizen should be a politician. Clubs and societies should at once communicate with the Secretary of the National Association of Demo-that Contain MercuryAs mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in HIGH SCHOOLMany Improvements That Will Add to the Convenience of Pupils.When the new bell rings out the first call to school on the 3d of next month, the incoming pupils will discover many new and convenient changes in and about the imposing brick structure.The first change that will attract their attention is the artesian well which is in the last stages of completion. A stationary engine has been working a small pilerdriver for several days now, and a depth of fifty feet is registered. Twenty feet more at the most will tap a good flow, so say the experts.This well will prove a great innovation, as a plentiful supply of pure water tends to heighten the appearance and value of any piece of real estate.Within the high school building, on the second floor, carpenters have wrought a transformation. The high school classes are to occupy the two middle rooms on the second floor, instead of those on the south side. This move does away with a deal of running about, formerly practiced by seniors and middles.A good sized apartment has been partitioned off in the west end of the annex hall. This room adjoins the new high school classroom, as likewise does the laboratory.Now, instead of marching through hallways and other classrooms, the high school classes can go directly into bookkeeping and laboratory work from their new quarters.Prof. J. E. Bray informed us that $150 would be expended on chemical apparatus and essential laboratory and physical implements.This sum is not apportioned by the trustees, but raised by entertainments and subscriptions.The two rooms hitherto occupied at the University by the public schools have been thrown into one commodious apartment well lighted and properly ventilated.Lack of space necessitated the renting of the old Congregational church building. Prof. Bray will have a corps of sixteen teachers not conducting the music instructor and kindergarten teacher.The high school building compares favorably with any on the coast, the standard of the schools is excellent and with each succeeding year rapidly advances in all its branches.Four Years More of StewartThe Winnemucca Silver State contains the following:The announcement that William M.

Stewart has flopped back into the Republican party will occasion no surprise in this State. It is in direct line with other actions of a political career which has been criminal from its beginning, every act being stamped with a rascality and treachery which long ago placed him outside the pale of decency. As a political pariah he stands alone. There is none in political history, no matter how corrupt, whom it would not be an insult to mention in the same breath with this betrayer of every trust.But the people of Nevada are confronted with four years more of Stewart. He is despised by every man, woman and child in the State, and by none more heartily than by the members of that party to which he has renewed allegiance to cloak some newborn scheme of devilry. But the State is in the grasp of a devil-fish from which it cannot get away—for four years. Four years more of Stewart means much to the woe of Nevada —it can mean nothing for its good.
Four years more of Stewart will give the people of Nevada ample time to reflect upon what fools they have been.
If anything is to be learned by experience, they have had a hard lesson and should profit thereby.

A Communication.

RENO, August 23, 1900.

EDITOR JOURNAL: On several occasions lately the papers have indicated that certain revelations of a sensational nature would be given out regarding the county officers. These intimations necessarily cast a suspicion on some one in the court house.Therefore we, the undersigned desire that you come out plainly and state who is referred to. If we permit the matter to go unnoticed it naturally casts a suspicion on all of us. We refer especially to the item in yesterday morning's JOURNAL.

Very respectfully,

L. C. SHEARER, Auditor,
W. H. McINNIS, Sheriff,
D. B. BOYD, Treasurer,
A. A. EVANS, Assessor,
E. L. WILLIAMS, District Attorney.

the Chronic.The Gazette puts in a spiel about the questionable propriety of the Bryan club's meeting in a sheriff's office.
It would seem from an outsider's point of view that the Bryanites heeded this touching criticism and profited thereby, for in this morning's issue the notice reads: "Meeting held in the Salvation Army barracks."We beg to assure the Gazette that this change of base from a room where each of its four walls bristle with threats of hand-cuffs, cudgels and prison bars to a semi-inspiring, religious begetting Salvation Army stronghold, is a matter of convenience, and not occasioned by a twinge of conscience in the ringleaders' cosmos.

In the Air.

A second street brawl drew a ring of spectators yesterday afternoon. Virginia street has been the scene of any quantity of noisy brawls. Some of our respected citizens might feel deeply injured if the constables deemed it essential to put them in the cooler.Public exhibition of pugilistic adroitiness is very well in its place and Nevada is undoubtedly a legalized field for such, yet we don't like to get too much of a good thing.

New Line Completed.

The Sunset Telephone Co.'s through line to San Francisco is now completed.
Wires are strung direct to San Francisco, thus enabling one to talk business or otherwise to a friend in the bay city, with as much facility as if conversing over the local lines in Reno. Manager Lake has handled the Sunset's affairs in our locality with commendable proficiency.

on a westbound freight yesterday. These poultry cars have a capacity for over four hundred dozen fowls. The foul smell is one of the strongest features noticeable about a poultry car.Harry Gosse was presented with a fig gift comes at a date too far advanced to be used advantageously. Harry sighed when he recalled the sweltering that cropped up too late!

Rushing in Stock.

Two special stock trains came in from the north yesterday. Fifteen cars of horses and the same number of cars of cattle were unloaded at the stock yards.Mr. Parry expected more trains in last night—among others a big shipment of sheep belonging to P. L.
Flanagan.Extensive shipping will soon boom Nevada's important industry.
